Happenings in and Around Frank

A. Mutz is dismantling the Imperial hotel which he is moving to another part of the province.

Robert Fitzsimmons, the champion boxer of the world, was a guest at the Rocky Mountain Sanatorium on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

A. Manuel, proprietor of the Frank hotel, has decided to erect another hotel little farther east and has picked Burnis as being the most desirable place.

MARRIED—On Saturday evening, at the Methodist parsonage, by Rev. W. T. Young, Mr. Emil Dypolt, of Frank, to Miss Anna Pras, of Chicago. They will make Frank their future home.

On account of the inclemency of the weather on Sunday morning last Rev. Fr. Sammut did not preach on Socialism but decided to handle that important subject when weather conditions would permit of a larger attendance at church.

For soreness of the muscles, whether induced by violent exercise or injury, there is nothing better than Chamberlain's Liniment. This liniment also relieves rheumatic pains. For sale by all dealers.

As a joke paper, the Lethbridge Daily Herald has got Punch, Buck and other funny magazines beat with a "frazzle." That paper's latest joke is that the "C. P. R." is to give each resident of this town, who has to move to obviate the possibility of disaster from turtle mountain, a free site in the new "C. P. R." village. The village does not own any property in this neighborhood outside of its right-of-way. As announced by several weeks ago, it is the Canadian Coal Consolidated that has promised to do the benevolent act referred to above.

Dysentery is always serious and often a dangerous disease, but it can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has cured it even when malignant and epidemic. For sale by all dealers.

Will Help Frank

For the benefit of pleasure seekers who desire to spend the week end and the holidays at Frank and the vicinity of Crows' Nest the C. P. R. officials have decided to have the Spokane Flyer stop at Frank on the Sunday morning trip. This has not been done off Sundays in the past, but as a large number of Lethbridge people desired to spend the two days at the scene of the great mountain slide the railroad decided to accommodate them. Many could not get away on Saturday and had the C. P. R. not met their desire it would have been impossible for them to spend Sunday as well as the holiday beneath the peak of Turtle Mountain.—Lethbridge Morning News

Dominion Day At Frank

Nearly a thousand visitors were in Frank on Monday last to witness the Dominion Day celebration. In the morning quite a number of children's games were pulled off and many valuable prizes were distributed as a consequence thereto.

In the afternoon the older folk were given an opportunity to interest the hundreds of spectators. Frank won the $50 prize for football while Hillcrest carried home an equal amount for winning at baseball.

A drizzle which fell throughout the greater part of the afternoon somewhat marred the pleasures of the event and many went home "soaked" without having to go to the hotels for the liquid.

Notes From Burnis

Mr. D. Cameron took in the sights of Coleman this week.

Mr. Davidson, inspector of the postal service, was a Burnis visitor this week.

Thos. Duncan, the hotel keeper of Pasmburg, was a Burnis visitor this week.

Quite a few Burnis people took in the "C. P. R." show at Coleman, and report a good time.

Quite a lot of rain fell in the district last week, and our local cabbage experts are wearing a "Sunny Jim" smile.

Quite a large number of people took in the football game on the 29th, between Burnis and Blairmore, which resulted in favor of Burnis by the score of 3 to 1.

The stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. Kahan and left a fine looking boy. The mother and child are both doing well. Pete is wearing a smile that will melt butter.

Quite Olson has blown back into camp and has brought Alex. McDonald, better known as the "King of the Heelan," along with him. They both sailed in on the water wagon.

Since George appears to have lost out with the judges, he has taken to growing mustaches. As an agriculturist, expert George has no equal, and his reference to the crops on the North Fork as excellent may be taken for granted.

The Lundbeck postmistress passed west through here on Saturday evening at the usual pace of 29 1/2 miles an hour. No doubt the damp atmosphere around some of the "Crows' Nest" Pass towns brought the "Gazette" to a standstill.

A posthumous of the popular intimacy blew into town this week and enticed "Uncle" into buying a pipe for the modest sum of 5c, which according to "Uncle's" story turned out to be so good. However, "Uncle" found a knife which he thought would go to compensate him for his loss. Surely Providence must smile on "Uncle."

Truly this is an age of discovery. Two things ranking in no mean manner with the "first order class" have been discovered in Burnis this week, to-wit: "Uncle Billie" mounted on "Bliss" wearing his new grey. Kelly greatly remembers our noble Bobs of military fame and "Bliss" is a lady home. Since the latter discovery the boys have been wondering why the name should not be more suitable and find on inquiry that "Bliss" has been of course in the "C. P. R." line.

The regular meeting of the Order of Guzman was held this week and many and numerous, were the topics discussed. The report of the committee appointed last week to investigate the occurrence of a piece of rock discovered in the Burnis mine, was submitted and read as follows:—We are of the opinion that in the days when the Lepidodendron Sigillaria and other giant marsh plants were growing wild, the especially rich and luxuriant vegetation which subsequently went to form the Burnis No. 2 seam, was the chief source of continual warfare between the mountain tribes, so much did they covet this portion of land that constant warfare was waged with the North and South Fork warriors. Invading forces worked around what are now the Lundbeck and Crows' Nest routes to the attack of the forces on the hills opposite; it being considered sacrilegious to in any way defile the coveted garden by crossing it. So the jungle of embryo coal grew in the clean and wholesome way true to nature. However a leader was born in the North Fork tribe who was of and inventive turn of mind and he was continually making a study of getting back at the South Forkers with breaking faith. One day he devised a catapult which would hurl a stone over to the other side. With this instrument he succeeded in gaining the coveted portion, hence its present position on the North side of the river but owing to some mistake the stone which has just been discovered was accidentally discharged from the catapult and fell short. A vote of thanks to the committee was tendered and the report was adopted without discussion.

Censure was passed on the Republican party for making such a "hash" of things. The C. P. R. are to be instructed as to the correct spelling of "wildcat" in order that the mines (Burnis in particular) may be kept operating. The present provincial government are to be defeated at the next election unless they get a move on and bridge the Old Man river at Burnis. We acknowledge the Premier's letter saying this matter is in the hands of the department. Blairmore were congratulated on the clean game they played and the general absence of explosives. Uncle Billie was censured for buying a pipe out of town and not encouraging home industry. No sympathy to be extended because the pipe was "no blooming good." The meeting broke up at a late hour after a recitation of an ode to Mutz.

Happenings in and Around Bellevue

The Bellevue band played at Blairmore on the evening of July 1st.

A large number of Bellevue people braved the rain on Dominion Day and took in the sports at Frank.

Richard Rhone, the boy who had his leg broken in a run-away accident, recently, is on a rapid road to recovery.

Walter Scott, accompanied by his bride, returned from Winnipeg on Monday. Walter is occupying the house vacated by J. Raynor. We wish the newly wedded couple every happiness in their new home.

The football players met their second Waterloo of the season at Coleman, on Saturday, when they met defeat at the hands of the team of that town by score of 3 to 0. Notwithstanding the bad weather, a large number of Bellevue people drove down to support the team in the way of enthusiasm.

During the summer months mothers of young children should watch for any unnatural looseness of the bowels. When given prompt attention at this time serious trouble may be avoided. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy can always be depended upon. For sale by all dealers.

A Chance For Live Investors

Those desirous of making a few dollars out of the C. P. R. would do well to see Mr. J. G. Ewan, of Maple Leaf, who has secured the local agency for one of the best sections of Weyburn, a prosperous and rapidly growing city on the 800 line of the C. P. R., about 90 miles south of Moose Jaw. Weyburn is also on the Winnipeg, Arcola and Regina branch of the C. P. R. as well as being the divisional point of the line now being built by the C. P. R. to Lethbridge. Thus it will be seen that railway activity is in progress there and that Weyburn is quickly becoming a city of wonderful importance. Mr. Ewan is fortunate in securing such an agency and we are sure that he will find many purchasers amongst the live investors of The Pass. See his ad. elsewhere in this issue.

Mr. Mouat Retires

Pinebush Creek Echo.—A. N. Mouat having retired from the management of the 41 market company W. M. Hay has been appointed general manager. Mr. Hay comes from Toronto and Winnipeg, and has had many years experience in the business both wholesale and retail. S. McLean Norton, who is secretary-treasurer will have control of the financial accounting and auditing departments of the company. Under the administration of Mr. Mouat the operations of the 41 Market Company have been largely extended, and branches are not now in full swing at Nelson, Cranbrook, Fernie, Homers and Natal in British Columbia, Estab Coleman, Blairmore, Frank, Bellevue, Pinebush Creek and Macleod in Alberta. With the rapidly increasing business in the province of British Columbia, it has been found necessary to change the location of the head office from Pinebush Creek, Alta. to Fernie, B. C. This will necessitate during the current month, a transfer of the head office to Fernie where the company has recently acquired commodious and centrally located premises. The Pinebush Creek branch will be continued under the management of Robert Guss, who has been for so long a resident in this district.

We Shall Become Wonderfully Great

The potentialities of The Pass are so great and promising that it ought not to be necessary to say an assuring word regarding the future of this section of the West. There are many, however, who do not seem to have a grasp of the situation, and who become at times despondent. They see the comparative slow growth of some of the communities; the shortage of cars to take the coal from the mines and carry it to the marts of commerce; the low ebb which sometimes prevails in the coal market—especially immediately after a strike during which time the railway companies bring large quantities of fuel from the United States—and they feel that The Pass is not such a wonderful place, after all. Such a man has not caught the spirit of the West and he very closely approaches the pessimist.

If we look real hard and keep on looking we can find causes for pessimism in everything. The pessimist is not a man of action or of enterprise, and he is altogether in the way in this town. He sees the bad and tries to make others see it and hesitate, but he hasn't the foresight to look beyond and see the opportunities that are glittering out of the very depression states that make him a pessimist.

The uninviting mountains, hills and dales! Why, every particle of that land cries out: "Dig and you shall find great treasures." Coal and limestone abound in inexhaustible quantities.

When we come right down to demonstrable facts, there is no section of the "last best West" that has the advantages and opportunities that The Pass possesses. Grow? If resources count for anything; if energetic, progressive, optimistic people count for anything, then some day this part of sunny southern Alberta will be densely populated. Every thoughtful man who has not been blinded by the curse of pessimism, and he who has really investigated the subject, will agree on this point.

Take Care of the Boys

The proceedings at the court room at Blaimore, on Tuesday evening last were more pitiful than amusing. It developed that boys of very tender years had, for their own use, procured cigarettes from some of the stores in town.

We understand that nearly a score of boys about 10, 12 and 14 years of age have been in the habit lately of spending evenings and Sunday afternoons congregated together in some out-of-the-way place, smoking and in other ways illustrating their precious moments. This is the worst habit that boys can fall into, and we take the liberty of advising the mothers to see that their boys spend their evenings to a much better advantage. Unless this is done, all good and noble lessons taught them by their parents are counteracted and nullified.

We are glad for the future welfare of our boys, that some step has been taken towards putting an end to the sale of tobacco in any form to minors, and that the police and private citizens intend keeping a vigilant look out for such offenders of the law which law we reprint below. Sections 1, 2, 3 and 4, of chapter 92, of the Ordinances of the North-West Territories of Canada, 1911, are as follows:

1. Any person who either directly or indirectly sells or gives or furnishes to a minor under sixteen years of age cigarettes, cigars or tobacco in any form shall be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction thereof to a penalty of not less than $10 or more than $100 with or without costs of prosecution, or to imprisonment with or without hard labor, for any term not exceeding ten days, or to both fine with or without costs and imprisonment to the said amount and for the said term in the discretion of the convicting magistrate; and in case of a fine or a fine and costs being awarded and of the same not being upon conviction forthwith paid the justice may commit the offender to the common gaol there to be imprisoned for any term not exceeding ten days unless the costs are sooner paid.

2. This Ordinance shall not apply to a sale to the minor under a written request or order of his parent, lawful guardian or employer.

3. A person who shall appear to the magistrate to be under sixteen years of age shall be presumed to be under that age unless it is shown by evidence that he is in fact over that age.

4. Any person except as provided in section 2 of this Ordinance to whom the sale of tobacco has been prohibited under section 1 of this Ordinance who either directly or indirectly in any way procures or permits the sale, disposal, gift or delivery to him by any person of any cigarettes, cigars or tobacco in any form shall be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction thereof to a fine not exceeding $2, and in default of payment to imprisonment for a period not exceeding one month.

Right in this town some fathers and mothers are educating their children in the requirements of first class devils. Of course they do not mean to do so but they are none the less. Boys are let run wild, are let carous on the streets or are permitted to spend their spare time in a somewhat secluded place, poisoning their system with the fumes of cigarettes. It is as natural for a boy who is never restrained by his parents to go to the bad as it is for him to live. The influence is that way. Instead of the pure hallowed atmosphere of the home, many boys are let breathe the unwholesome air of a crowd of smokers and listen to the oaths sworn more often than prayers are offered at home. It should not be necessary for us to inform the parents that they are responsible for their boys and should surround them with attractive home influences.

We do admire a manly boy, one who tries his best to become a man, and we always feel like helping him along. The boy who steps out from among evil associates, gives tobacco the go-by, has within him the true grit and deserves to be helped.

Editorial Notes

Train a boy to go in good company and he will go there; let him go wild and his associates will be anything but good.

Cigarette smoking contributes to criminality and vice, never to virtue and happiness. It impairs the health of the youth.

An editor in Newfoundland is advertising for 100 dozen of hens' eggs. We presume that our eastern brother is preparing for the general elections which will be held in the "Ancient Colony" about twelve months hence.

June, the "month of blushing brides," has gone out into the unfathomable recesses of time, and now more than ever before, marriage is apt to prove to many an unfortunate brother (or fortunate brother we meant to say) that a girl's golden tresses are after all just plain, ordinary red hair.

It is said that "laying on hands" for complaints, especially in children, is now taking the place of Christian science. A mother cured her boy of the cigarette habit with one dose. She laid her left hand on the boy's neck, her right hand on one substantial slipper, and then laid the slipper where it would do the most good. It effected a cure and a relapse is not looked for.

On Monday last the citizens of Canada celebrated Dominion Day, their forty-fifth anniversary, and in many places the day was celebrated with an enthusiasm in which national feeling and Imperial sentiment were harmoniously blended. To many it seems only a few years ago, amid dissension and rebellion, Canada was struggling for confederation and responsible government. In less than half a century, this Dominion has attained a startling growth. The rapid rise of Canada from a few scattered settlements to a country of wealth and population has been remarkable.

While things politically in the United States do not engage much of our thought and while we would prefer William Jennings Bryan to Theodore Roosevelt, we cannot refrain from saying that Theodore is a "regular out-and-out" honest and a fearless man, although he is very out-spoken in his beliefs and flat-footed when he has taken a stand. He has made mistakes. No man of Roosevelt's stripe ever avoided them. As Gladstone once said, "No man ever became great except through many and great mistakes." But they are never the mistakes of cowardice or weakness.

Coleman Notes

H. G. Goodere spent Dominion Day out of town.

C. Emerson took in the sports at Coleman on Dominion Day.

Ex-mayor Cameron was visiting at Blaimore and Frank on Monday.

J. J. Atherton has resigned his position as manager of the Bulletin.

Miss Dodds is spending the summer holidays with friends at Calgary.

The Cole Bros.' circus was in town on Saturday but the heavy rains prevented many from attending.

J. W. Sadler left on Saturday evening for Golden, B. C., where he has secured a position in a general store.

Bellevue football players were defeated by the local boys on Saturday evening last. The score was 3 to 0.

H. A. Parks is in town this week looking after his business interests here. Mr. Parks left Regina just a few days before the cyclone struck it.

Many of our citizens were out of town on Dominion Day taking advantage of the reduced rates offered by the transportation companies.

Mr. Ross, manager of the Coleman Mercantile Co., and Mrs. Ross were amongst the visitors to Blaimore, "The Hub of The Pass," on Dominion day.

PRIZE WINNING B.C. FRUIT LANDS

OWN a five acre fruit and poultry tract (or more) in British Columbia and be independent of life. $20 down and $10 a month pays for it. No interest and payments extended in case of sickness. From $500 to $1,500 per acre realized by ranchers in this famous prize-winning district, the Kootenay Lake. Ideal climate conditions, no rainy seasons as on the coast; no dry seasons or irrigation needed as in the Okanagan and Cranbrook districts. See Government reports. The main lake never freezes over and boats run the year around—see reports of other districts. I spent years in finding this ideal spot; I give them myself. I call my own fruit ranch—"The Honeymoon Place." Send for my booklet entitled "Honeymooning." It tells you all you want to know about that great British Columbia country, and there are scores of questions answered.

The new booklet, "Harris' New Method of Apple Culture," tells you how apples can be made to come into commercial bearing the second year. The old way you had to wait five years. Where a farmer made $1,500 he can now make $3,000 per acre. It is free if you will send me the names of ten of your friends or relatives who may be interested in buying fruit lands. I have sold to over 400 people the last four months and would be pleased to send you copies of some of the nice letters that they have written to me, which I received from those who have visited their holdings which I picked out for them.

I refund you your money if after seeing the tract I select for you you are not satisfied with it or with the rest I have to offer. If you cannot go on to your tract and wish to retain your present position for a few years and spend your vacation out there, I will agree to plant it and take care of it for you for five years at a small additional cost and give you a share of the profits from crops. I allow you a discount of ten per cent. for cash and give you a good commission in case you can secure buyers for me.

My monthly price list for wild and improved tracts will interest the most careful buyer. My next extension will be leaving Winnipeg June 25, and I will be pleased to have you join me. # OLD LADY ALMOST CRAZY WITH ECZEMA

A Remarkable and Convincing Statement of the Success of Cuticura Soap and Ointment in the Treatment of the Pain, Itching and Burning of Eczema

"I, the undersigned, cannot give enough praise to the Cuticura Remedies. I was suffering for at least a year for eczema on my foot. I had tried doctor after doctor to no avail. When a young friend I regarded my ankle three different times, paying little or no attention to it, when five years ago I was afflicted with it, I was told to use Cuticura. I was warned, 'If you draw a small bottle from the shelf, the size of a match, and about an inch long, the small hole new from the size of a pin, and the eczema spread to the knee.' The doctor never could find the cure in the skin. The whole foot ran water all the time.

"My husband and my sons were up night and day, and I was in such a state of mind that I was giving no more sleep. I was told to use Cuticura. I was warned, 'If you draw a small bottle from the shelf, the size of a match, and about an inch long, the small hole new from the size of a pin, and the eczema spread to the knee.' The doctor never could find the cure in the skin. The whole foot ran water all the time.

CANADA WAS FIRST.

Here Was the Premier Steamer to Cross the Atlantic.

It was the proud boast of those who designed and built the "mighty Titanic" that she was the "last word" in marine engineering. That "last word" now lies at the bottom of the Atlantic, a shattered mass of steel and wood, hurled into her vast splendor by many of the bodies of her heroic victims.

She was the "last word" yet, but we have the first word, and it is interesting to look back and learn what it was.

To Canada belongs the honor of having constructed and navigated the first vessel to cross the Atlantic propelled wholly by steam power. That first of steamships was the Royal William, and its first trip across the Atlantic was made in 1839—twenty-four years after the St. Lawrence River was first navigated by steamboat, and three years before the earliest of Canadian railways was opened between Lachine and St. John.

The Royal William was built by a joint stock company, and in the list of owners appear the names of the three brothers, Joseph, Henry and Samuel Cunard, of Halifax, N.S., founders of the famous Cunard Line. The Royal William was built at Quebec during the years 1830 to 1831, and the work was carried on in the shops of Campbell and Black, ship-builders.

A native of Quebec designed the vessel and superintended the construction. He was Mr. James Good, born in Quebec in 1809, and who died in 1884.

In the spring of 1831, the ship was launched with much ceremony. The dimensions were: Length, 178 feet; hold, 17 feet, nine inches; breadth outside, 47 feet; breadth between paddle-boxes, 23 feet. The vessel was built of iron, and was a schooner rigged; and the builders' measurement was 1,870 tons, with accommodation for sixty passengers.

The launching having been successfully carried out, the vessel was sent to Montreal, where her machinery was put in and she was fitted out for sea. Her first voyage was from Montreal to Halifax, and for a time thereafter the ship traded between Montreal, Quebec and Boston.

Then came the voyage that gave the Royal William a permanent place in history—the voyage across the Atlantic. On August 8, 1833, the ship left Quebec for London, calling at Pictou, N.S., for coal, and to have her machinery overhauled. She started again from Pictou on August 18 with seven passengers, 254 chaldrons of coal and a full cargo of lumber.

Off the banks of Newfoundland the Royal William encountered a severe gale with heavy rain and a violent sea. The vessel was tossed about, and the machinery was damaged. However, the voyage was completed, the Royal William reaching London twenty-five days after leaving Pictou.

The subsequent career of the Royal William was out of the commonplace. Two days after reaching London the Royal William was chartered by the Government of England for the purpose of conveying the Prince of Wales, and was converted into a war vessel, being given the name, "HMS Prince of Wales," and was employed against the forces of Don Carlos, pretender to the Spanish throne.

In a paper read before the Canadian Institute, Toronto, in December, 1892, Sir Sandford Fleming asserted that the bearing of the vessel was established that the memorable voyage of the Royal William in 1833 must be held to be the first passage across the Atlantic under steam. He undoubtedly proved to be the pioneer of Atlantic steamship travel.

During the meeting of the International Conference in Ottawa, in June, 1894, a display of the vessel was made to the wall of the corridor leading to the library of Parliament, the laboratory of the mind of the men who built and navigated the Royal William. The brass plate was the gift of the Royal Society, the presentation was made by the secretary, the late Sir John Bourne, clerk of the House of Commons.

The tablet was then unveiled by His Excellency, the Governor-General, the Earl of Aberdeen.

Recorder Weir, of Montreal, what Col. Deane, of Toronto, and Mr. Mayne Daly, of Winnipeg—the dispenser of justice in the police court. He is known far and near for his "business and despatch"—particularly "despatch"—in dealing with prisoners. His reputation as a debater has been much sought after by debating societies in Montreal. A committee called him up over the phone to ask if he would be kind enough to render the award in a debate.

On the day of the debate the Recorder was unusually busy. He had sent away prisoners down for terms bedding the crime. That evening he was on hand promptly at 8 o'clock. He heard the debate, analyzed the merits and demerits of the speakers, and then he stepped out to the gallery and achievements of this side, giving a point here and there for this or that speaker. At the conclusion of his remarks the applause was loud and long-continued. The Recorder made him much sought after for terms bedding the crime.

His Awakening.

The hall was dark, and Charley strolled up softly behind Agatha and kissed her lightly on the cheek. She didn't even look around, so he darted away undisturbed.

Not long after he met her in the dining room, but she didn't blush or look hurried in the least.

"Then you know who I was?" he remarked.

"Knew who it was?" came her cold query.

"Yes; you know, who kissed you?" he asked again.

"Good-heavens, you don't mean to say it was you?" she said, in biting tones.

Then he melted away.

Woolen blankets are among the household articles made in other lands that appeal most strongly to the people of China.

Question of Values.

Sam always did attract little Arthur, and he persisted in being himself, in spite of his mother's orders.

One day she caught him in the act, the jam pot in the hand and a large spoon in the other.

"Arthur, you naughty boy," she said, "Why do you always disobey me and steal the jam?"

Arthur's sweet blue eyes turned heavenward, and a little smile stole round the lips.

"I was just wondering, mother," he murmured gently.

"Wondering? What do you mean, child?" asked the exasperated parent.

"Well, mother, I haven't tasted the jam yet," explained the lad.

"And I was just wondering if it's good enough to be whipped for!"—London Answers.

Unappreciated Optimist.

"That man has a most irritating complacency," said the nervous person.

"Every time he sees me he pats me on the back, and tells me not to worry."

"Why don't you take his advice?"

"I can't help worrying constantly for fear I am going to meet him!"—Washington Star.

China's Opium Trade.

The United States consul at Hong Kong reports that in 1909 the imports of opium into China constituted about 8 per cent of the total imports.

While in 1911, with an immense increase in the volume of the imports, and with very little increase in the total import of the country, the imports of opium constituted about 12 per cent of the whole.

However, this increase in price and the entire imports of opium into China during 1910 may be taken as the culminating point in the contest against the use of the drug in China. The imports, though small as compared with the year before, were nevertheless made largely in anticipation of further restriction of imports by law.

A Dodge That Failed.

A party of four—two young ladies and two young men—became acquainted at a dance and after it was over the young men requested the pleasure of seeing the ladies home, which was granted, and the four made their way towards the fashionable part of the town.

Stopping outside a large house in the best street of the neighborhood, the girls indicated that this was their destination.

"I'll just run in and see what mamma is doing," exclaimed one of them, and forthwith she ran up the path leading to the front door, returning in a short time minus coat and hat.

"Mamma says we must hurry in now, as it is getting late," she said to the other.

They stood talking and laughing for some time when, much to the girls' consternation, a gentleman came down the path carrying a lady's coat and hat and addressing the lady, said: "Do these belong to you? I found them hanging on the door handle of my house."

Needless to say, the coat and hat were acknowledged, but the young lady never again attempted to make herself out to be what she is not.

"I think we met at this restaurant last winter. Your overcoat is very familiar to me."

"But I didn't have it then."

"No; but I did."

"BORDERING ON THE MIRACULOUS"

JOHN McELROY'S HEART TROUBLE CURED BY DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Could Not Work All Summer, and Was Unable to Help, but Cure Kidney Pills.

Mamma, N. B.—(Special).—Bordering on the miraculous is the cure of John McElroy, a young man well known here. He was suffering from heart trouble and was so bad that last summer he was not able to do a day's work. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him. In telling the story of his cure, Mr. McElroy says:

"I went to a doctor, who said I had palpitation, but his medicine did not seem to reach the spot. I suffered for over a year and all last summer I was not able to do a day's work. My sleep was broken and unrefreshing. I felt heavy and sleepy after meals, and was always tired and nervous. I perspired freely with the least exertion."

"After I had finished taking the doctor's medicine, and as I felt no better, I read in an almanac what Dodd's Kidney Pills were, and I made up my mind to try them. Before I had finished the first box I felt different, and by the time I had finished the second box I was half gone. I was working in the woods and doing good work."

While we were playing cards one evening, my little niece Hazel, 3 years old, got rather restless over our playing, so what did she do but rather the cards up in a nest little pile and, with the seven spot of trumps on top, started to talk, and said: 'What! Are you tired of playing cards? (cards?) Alleviate (card?) then we'll put you in the box.' She didn't want to tell us to quit, so she got around it another way."

The Veracious Verger—In the far corner lies William the Conqueror; behind the organ, where you can't see, are the toms of Guy Fox, Robin Hood, and Cardinal Wolsey. Now does that guide book, as I see you 'ave in your hand, tell you who is lying 'ere, or not?

The Skeptical Tourist—No, but I can guess.

"We've a brand new mahogany piano," said Mr. Curox. "But nobody in your line can play it."

"Yes, that's the best thing about it."

There's no mistaking the expression of a man whose farm is well "improved."

He looks as prosperous as he feels.

It isn't the size of a place that counts most, nor its actual dollars-and-cents value. It's rather that "well-kept," thrifty appearance; the appearance that makes you think of fat stock, and well-filled barns, and comfortable, contented living.

Neat, permanent improvements go further in giving a farm this appearance than any other factor.

Concrete Is The Ideal Material

for such improvements. It is neat, harmonizing with its surroundings in the country. Everlasting; it cannot be injured by fire, frost, wind or lightning. Age—instead of causing it to decay—actually makes it stronger.

Concrete never needs repair—first cost is last cost. New improvements can be added year after year with less expense than would be required to keep wooden structures in repair.

Concrete walks, feeding floors, dairy-barns, ice-houses, root-barns, well-curbings, fence posts, silos—which of these does your farm need most? Whatever you want to build, it's best to build it of concrete.

Do you want to know more about this subject of permanent farm improvements? Then write for your copy of

"What The Farmer Can Do With Concrete."

It's a book of 160 pages, telling how other farmers have used the "handy material" to good advantage. Published to sell at 50c, a copy, it is now being offered free to all farmers who write for it.

Boys Must Not

Use Tobacco

A case of peculiar interest came up for hearing in the court room on Tuesday evening when J. Badot and Ling Dong were charged before Justice Pinkney with having, on Monday last, supplied boys under sixteen years of age with cigarettes. Badot pleaded guilty to the charge and added that he did not know the cigarettes were for the boy. He thought that they were for his father. He was therefore fined $1 and $3 costs.

Ling Dong was then called before the judge. The celestial declared that he considered cigarettes were not good for persons of tender years and therefore had always refused to supply tobacco in any form to boys under sixteen years of age. He pleaded "not guilty."

Two boys were sworn and testified that they were in Ling Dong's store on Dominion Day and purchased tobacco from one of the Chinese employed there. The boys were 13 and 14 years of age respectively, but at the time they purchased the tobacco they were not asked their age, neither were they asked whom the cigarettes were for.

Mar Poy was called in as an interpreter and after the case was clearly understood, by his accusers, Dong, Yes could not remember whether he had sold cigarettes to the boys or not. However, his evidence did not outweigh that given by the two boys and Ling Dong, owner of the store in which Dong Yet worked, was asked to pay $1 and $3 costs. The Chinese were mighty happy for the manner in which they were dealt by the court and they promised to be more careful in future. Mar Poy eulogized the Judge for the fair and able manner in which he dispensed British justice which he (Poy) declared was the best in the world.

The two boys who had gone astray into the crooked path were warned never to do it again. The Judge told them that it was very wrong for boys to use cigarettes. They were injurious to the health of boys of such tender years and they were asked to leave tobacco alone in future. They promised to be better boys and would do their best to help other youths to a better and higher life.

Ladies to the Front

The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian Church held a bazaar from Thursday to Saturday last during which time the sum of $150 was raised towards the proposed building. Considering the many other attractions on during the past week or so, the ladies did nobly. The bazaar was held in the Budd block between 6th and 7th avenues on Victoria street and was well patronized by ladies of all creeds while those of the sterner sex sought shy of their opposites. Many of those conducting the sale proved themselves to be first class sales ladies and in the event of a big sale being put on in any of the large stores in this vicinity, their services may be sought after. Those to whom much credit is due for the success of the bazaar are Mesdames McVicar, Bryden, Law and Fisher, special mention might also be made of Mrs. L. Thorne for the splendid music which delighted those who attended the sale. In the guessing contest the dolls were won by Beatrice Beard and Gladys Purvis.

Cyclone Visits Regina and Kills 26 Persons

Regina, July 3.—With its finest residential district destroyed, its beautiful churches in ruins, a portion of the retail section and of the two wholesale sections demolished, Regina, the Beautiful, is a city of gloom and desolation, as the result of a terrible cyclone which visited this city at ten minutes to five on Sunday afternoon. In the history of the west no such storm has ever been known.

The known deaths reach twenty-six. Over one hundred injured are in the hospitals while many others are being cared for in the homes of the more fortunate citizens.

The area covered by the cyclone was through the heart of the best residential section, the railway yards, the wholesale district, a portion of the business district, and north of the track. Everything in the path of the storm is practically demolished. Starting at the south end of the city the cyclone whirled straight north, leaving nothing but a path of destruction in its wake. Fully five hundred houses are absolutely wrecked, most of them nothing but a mass of tumbled walls and smashed furniture. Some buildings were picked up bodily and carried ten to twenty yards. The total loss is about five million dollars.

JOHNSON WINS IN 9TH ROUND

Wedding Bells

On Saturday evening last, at the residence of Mr. Mark Baldwin, Mr. Lloyd James Smallbone, of Blairmore, and Miss Ada Margaret Cooper, of Northfleet, Kent, England, were united in marriage by the Rev. J. F. Hunter, pastor of Central Baptist church. The newly married couple have taken up their abode in Blairmore.

On Monday evening last, at the residence of Rev. J. F. Hunter, Thomas Doyle, of Medicine Hat, was married to Miss Mary Elizabeth Sewell, of Tynemouth, England. Mr. and Mrs. Doyle will make their home at Beaver Mines.

Blairmore Ball Players Win the Money

The Blairmore baseball players went to Michel on Dominion Day and just played "merry-go-round" with the other teams.

At 11 a.m. Corbin played Blairmore, or rather Blairmore played Corbin, the score being 18 to 2 in favor of Blairmore.

At 3 p.m. the Michel players thought that it would require a whole hour's time to chalk up the score they would make against the Blairmore team. But they were sorely disappointed and lost to the visiting players by a score of only 35 to 4. This made Blairmore the victors and entitled them to the prize of $50 which they in due time received and which they carefully guarded until it was brought here and safely deposited in one of the local banks.

The Blairmore team was as follows: Olsen, Benson, Fetter, Paterson, Lewis, Adamson, Hogan, Green and Dellis.

The list of scholars promoted in the Blairmore public school is unavoidably crowded out of this week's issue but we hope to be able to publish same in our next.

Presentation to Rev. A. S. Tod

On Tuesday evening last the members of Blairmore lodge No. 68, I.O.O.F., did honor to their worthy chaplain, Rev. Bro. A. S. Tod, by presenting him with two large and valuable pieces of cut glass. In making the presentation address, P.G. Rev. Bro. J. F. Hunter, said that he was sorry to learn that Rev. Tod had decided to leave Blairmore. He was a great acquisition to Blairmore Lodge where he was ever willing to do his share towards helping the lodge to a prosperous stage. It would be difficult to find a person so well qualified to fill the vacancy caused by Bro. Tod. Bro. Hunter wished the departing brother abundant success in his new field of labor and hoped that the attraction of Blairmore would lure him back to this town occasionally.

Bro. Tod thanked the previous speaker for his good words of appreciation and good will and extended to the members his thanks for the handsome present received from them. He was glad that he had ever identified himself with Blairmore lodge. He would never forget the many good times he had taken part in along with other members of the order. He wished the lodge great success and hoped that prosperity would smile upon all of the members.

Then followed brief remarks by several of the brethren present and all joined in wishing Bro. Tod much happiness and prosperity wherever his lot may be cast.

Orangemen Parade

As announced in last week's issue of this journal and by bill distributed around town, Wellington lodge No. 2224, Loyal Orange Association, will hold their annual church parade on Sunday next. The members and all visiting brethren are invited to meet in the lodge room at 2.30 p.m. and parade through some of the principal streets and to the Central Baptist church where Past Master Rev. Bro. Hunter will preach.

"Beverly"

The attraction at the Blairmore opera house on Friday, July 12 will be A. G. Delamater's original Studebaker Theatre, Chicago production of George Barr McCutcheon's "Beverly," by Robert M. Baker. The Buffalo Commercial has the following to say concerning the attraction.

"Geo. Barr McCutcheon's 'Beverly' opened a week's engagement auspiciously at the Teck Theatre last evening before a crowded house. The dramatization promises all of the elements that go to make a successful play; admirable characters, elaborate settings, clever situations, and an interesting plot. All the parts are well acted and the company enters into the play with spirit and effectiveness. Curtain calls were frequent, the ending of the third act being the signal for long continued applause."

Woodrow Wilson, governor of New Jersey, has secured the Democratic nomination for President of the United States.
